About Us

At the Royal College of Surgeons, we offer undergraduate programmes in Medicine, Graduate Entry Medicine, Pharmacy and Physiotherapy.

Our university was created to set and support professional standards for surgical training and practice in Ireland. This surgical heritage continues to shape our approach to education, research and service today. We are an innovative, world-leading international health sciences education and research university with undergraduate and postgraduate schools and faculties across the health sciences spectrum. We are home to numerous healthcare institutes as well as leading research centres that drive pioneering breakthroughs in human health. Located in the heart of Dublin, with international campuses in Bahrain and Malaysia – and a student community of over 60 nationalities – we have an international perspective on how we train tomorrow's clinical professionals today.

A deep, professional responsibility to enhance human health through endeavour, innovation and collaboration in education, research and service informs all that we do. We welcome students and researchers into programmes of academic excellence. They will establish lifelong relationships with a community of clinically led colleagues, who will nurture and support them, enabling them to realise their potential to serve our global patient community.

We are an independent, not-for-profit body and remain committed to institutional independence, service, academic freedom, diversity and humanitarian concern. Our independence enables us to chart our own course in the service of excellence in human health. Placing the patient at the centre of all that we do, our values of respect, collaboration, scholarship and innovation continue to unite and direct our purpose.

Additional Information

RCSI is one of the top 250 (top 2%) universities worldwide in the 2019 Times Higher Education World University Rankings and ranks 2nd in the Republic of Ireland.

Career development is very important to us at RCSI. With 25% of our student population coming from North America, we have a dedicated team on campus that work with students to ensure that they are competitive candidates when applying for residency.

Each semester the Career Development team provides opportunities to engage and build upon achievements that support career goals. Students can also participate in our Research Summer School and clinical electives. They can spend the summer as part of a medical research team conducting clinical or laboratory research or participate in electives involving direct patient clinical care in some of the world's leading hospitals, including the Johns Hopkins Hospital Group and the Mayo Clinic in the USA.
