

Dominican University College

Dominican University College (DUC) is a first-class public university. Established in 1900 in Ottawa, Canada, DUC is well-known for its dynamic research and teaching practices. It offers intimate learning experience that allows students to fully immerse themselves in a centuries-old intellectual tradition. The university's unique location and size make it easy for each student to integrate into the student life and Ottawa's many diverse communities.

Both local and out-of-province students find an inspiring academic environment where each student's presence and input contribute to making the university a rigorous and innovative place of learning. The university is accredited by the Ontario Government and is a member of the Association of Universities and Colleges of Canada (A.U.C.C.). It grants civil bilingual (English and French) degrees in Philosophy and Theology and is formally affiliated with Carleton University. All degrees granted by DUC are conjoint with Carleton University and students have an opportunity to enroll in classes on both campuses.

DUC is proud to be on the list of the most beautiful heritage buildings featured in Ottawa's annual Open Doors event. Being located in the Canadian capital, cultural, social and networking events abound. Parliament Hill, the Rideau Canal, many shopping, dining and strolling areas can be reached on foot. Our incoming students are encouraged to live the ultimate authentic bilingual experience by visiting neighborhoods, meeting people and participating in the events on both the Ontario and Quebec sides of the Ottawa River.

If you are looking for a world-class education, look no further! Join the Philosophy and Theology programs at Dominican University College! You do not have to start a degree to learn more about theology or philosophy, you can just enroll in one of the interest courses being offered every fall, winter, and summer semesters
